PROJECT: LaGuardia Airport

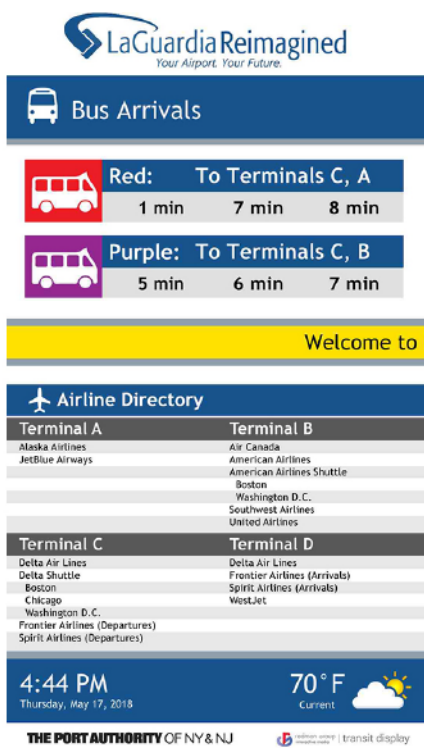

Overview

LaGuardia Airport in New York City has experienced a renaissance in recent years, and Redmon Group's Transit Display provides the flying public with convenient information whether they are arriving or departing. Curb-side terminal displays provide shuttle arrival times, airline terminal assignments, traveler safety information, and drive-times to local destinations. Displays in the new parking garages provide flight departure, arrival, and safety information. Additionally, the enclosures incorporate text-to-speech for accessibility and USB charging ports.
